Property details continued from page 1:

... Our apartment in Breakfast Point was found by a relocation consultant who recommended it to us as it was far superior to any others she had seen. From the moment we were collected from the airport, taken to the apartment and made to feel at home to the time we left six months later, we had all our needs promptly and personally attended to. This was an ideal place to stay while settling back into our home country. Nearby shops, restaurants and transport are excellent and the location ideal.
